

Sample student teacher relationship paragraph

A student is a person of any age who is active in the learning of skills and knowledge. The student is often engaged by a teacher who already has mastery of the desired skills and knowledge. The relationship between the student and teacher is one of master and apprentice, where the student or students spend time with the teacher.

Sample entities and relationships

Note: boxes contain the entities, arrows represent the relationships.

Sample entities with attributes

Student(s)
first_name
last_name
birth_date

Teacher(s)
first_name
last_name

Skills and Knowledge
name
description
competency_level

Question: Is there any duplication within these entities?